

Story Sharing: Part 1 - Your Childhood

Throughout history, sharing our personal stories and histories has brought people closer. Now that we have a bit of time, maybe we could reminisce together?

Where did you grow up? Do you remember your first home?

What was the first big historical 'news event' that you remember?

What were the first programmes you remember watching on TV?

What was your first bedroom like?

Who was your first best friend?

Did you have a teddy bear or favourite toy?

Did you ever perform in public?

What are the earliest happy family memories that come to your mind?

Did you have any special childhood holidays?

What jobs did you help with at home?

Can you remember your first neighbours?

Where was your favourite place to play?

What books or comics did you most enjoy as a child?

Do you remember your first trip to the cinema?

What sweets did you buy most often?

Who taught you to swim / ride a bike?

Did you ever break any bones?

Did you have a nickname?

Who were your first idols - maybe a singer, actor or sports star?

Did you ever climb trees?

What job did you most want when you were little?

What were your favourite games?

Did you have any interesting hobbies or collections?

Did you have a favourite outfit or item of clothing?

Were your grandparents alive when you were growing up? What were they like?

Did you ever have a Saturday job?

What music do you remember your parents playing?

Would you have any advice for your younger self?

What did you do on rainy days or family evenings?

What was your favourite meal? Were you a fussy eater?
